CHAS. K. HALL FUNERAL WILL BE SATURDAY

PIONEER RESIDENT PASSED AWAY ON THURSDAY MORNING

Charles Keith Hall, age 89 years, and one of the real pioneers of Putnam county, passed away at five o'clock Thursday morning at the home of his wife, Mrs. Webb Evans, east Washington street. He had been failing health for the past few years, due to his advanced age, but his condition had been critical only a short time. Mr. Hall came to Greencastle about a year ago to make his residence when Mr. and Mrs. Evans moved to the city. Prior to that time he had lived on his farm near Brick Chapel, where he was born and spent his entire lifetime.

He was the youngest son of the late James and Elizabeth Nelson Hall, and was the last survivor of eleven children. He grew up in the Christian home of his parents, and was never married and continued to make his home his until their deaths. He was widely known throughout the county and his charitable acts, although many, were never publicized and the friends whom he had helped were legion.

Mr. Hall was a member of the Somerset Christian church and during his long and active lifetime, he took a great interest in the affairs of the church as well as the entire community. He was also a member of the Masonic lodge at Morton and was one of its few fifty-year members.

The funeral services will be held from the Rector Funeral Home at 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning with burial in the Brick Chapel cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home.

First Day Of Winter Is Real

Thursday was the first day of winter and it was a real winter day. Today and Friday are also the shortest days of the year. The sun rose this morning at 7:21, although no one here saw it come up, and it will set at 4:36 this evening. The sun will come and go at the same minute tomorrow, but from there on there will be a shortening of a minute or two a day and it won't be long until there will be quite a noticeable difference in the length of the days.

Although the mercury stood at about 25 degrees this morning, there was another inch or so of snow and the air was cold, and the weatherman didn't help matters any by saying the temperature tomorrow morning might be zero or nearby, so the first day of winter has a real winter flavor.

Walter Dills Passed Away

Word has been received here of the death of Walter Dills of Muskogee, Oklahoma, former resident of Greencastle. Mr. Dills was in the sand and gravel business in Oklahoma. He is survived by a brother, Bob Dills of Morton; an uncle, Lee Woods, Greencastle R. 1 and an aunt, Mrs. William E. Thomas.

Need Increase In Navy Planes

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—(UP)—Rear Admiral Dewitt C. Ramsey, chief of the Navy's Bureau of Aeronautics, said today that a 30 to 40 per cent increase in Navy fighter plane production might be necessary in the coming year because of American progress toward the Japanese homeland.

"We are approaching a new phase in the Pacific war," Ramsey said in an interview with the United Press. "Because of the change in geography, change in enemy tactics and because we are getting closer to Japan proper and the centers of enemy shore-based aircraft, we will need more fighters to cope with the new situations."

"During the last half of this year, the navy placed in effect a 20 per cent cutback in the fighter program. This was due largely to the fact that attrition of naval fighter planes was one third less than had been estimated when the 1944 production schedules were planned."

"Fighter production will have to be increased in the coming year on the basis of our present outlook," Ramsey continued. "There are many uncertainties in this game of war. We must have cushions and margins of strength to cope with the unexpected."

"We try to base our materials estimates on the best available data available, but always with a final evaluation which regards overproduction as a misdemeanor and underproduction as a crime."

New Counselor For University

Miss Florence I. Adams of Chicago has been appointed an admissions counselor for DePauw University, according to Dean Edward R. Bartlett, director of admissions. Miss Adams will work mainly in the Chicago area, he said.

Miss Adams received her college training at the University of Illinois, where she majored in English and French and completed the course in Education required for teachers. While in school and upon graduation she did a great deal of tutoring and was alumnae scholarship chairman for her sorority. Later she entered the field of admissions counseling.

The extensive experience which Miss Adams has had in guidance work and her close contact with college students over a long period of years particularly qualifies her to represent DePauw University in the Chicago area, according to William E. Umbreit, secretary of admissions here.

FATAL TO WIDELY KNOWN CITIZEN

SOLDIERS SUE C. & E. I.

FOR $400,000 DAMAGES
CHICAGO, Dec. 21.—Two soldiers filed Federal Court suits today asking $200,000 damages each from the Chicago & Eastern Illinois Railroad on the allegation they suffered "irreparable" back and spine injuries in a wreck last Sept. 14 in which twenty-six persons were killed near Terre Haute, Ind.

The plaintiffs were T/Sgt. Maywood Carpenter, 28, Sumnerfield, Ohio, and Sgt. Earl Carruthers, 26, Gordon, Wis. They were aboard the southbound Dixie Flyer when it and a northbound mail-express train collided.

FIREMEN OVERCOME

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 21.—(UP)—Twelve firemen were overcome last night by fumes from 25,000 tons of baled hay which burned in a barn at the Indianapolis stockyards.

The victims were hospitalized while dozens of other firemen fought the blaze in a huge brick and concrete building, where the stockyard's entire winter supply of hay was destroyed.

Firemen said that the flames, which swept through 20,000 square feet of floor space, would not be completely under control before tomorrow.

REDS SCORE VITAL GAINS IN SLOVAKIA

LONDON, Dec. 21.—(UP)—Red Army forces battered through fierce German and Hungarian resistance in the southern Slovak mountains today, splintering the entire axis front and threatening the encirclement and destruction of thousands of enemy troops.

At the same time, Stockholm reports credited to anti-Nazi German sources said the German high command was preparing a gigantic "Christmas offensive" on the eastern front to coincide with the new drive in the west.

These reports, which thus far were not supported by Moscow dispatches or the latest German propaganda outpourings, said perhaps 250,000 Nazi reserves would be thrown into the new offensive on an undisclosed sector of the eastern front.

Stockholm said fresh troops were being released for the action through the mobilization of additional Volkssturm, or people's army, units in the Reich.

Both Russian and German accounts of the east front fighting today, however, centered on the fierce struggle raging along the mountainous Hungarian-Slovak border.

Berlin said the Soviets were throwing increasingly strong forces into the battle in a full-scale attempt to break through eastern Slovakia to link up their First and Second Ukrainian Armies in southern Poland for a winter offensive against Krakow and German Silesia.

Today's Russian communiques said units of the Second Ukrainian Army hammered out gains extending to seven miles yesterday in concerted drives up the Sajo and Rima valleys toward the big railway center of Losonc (Lucenec) in southern Slovakia.

The Soviets won their biggest advance on the east bank of the Rima valley where they captured Janosovce, 17 miles east of Losonc. Five miles to the north-east, another Soviet column captured Batka, eight miles inside the Slovak frontier for their deepest announced penetration of the Nazi puppet state.

Farther to the northeast, other Red Army forces widened their bridgehead on the west bank of the Sajo river and pushed up the east bank along the railway line linking Losonc with Kassa (Kasice)—the main German supply and communications line in southern Slovakia.

There was no official word on the Russian advance on Kassa, which for the past 48 hours had been under artillery fire by the Second Ukrainian Army and units of the Fourth Ukrainian Army.

The Second Army's spearheads last were reported only nine miles south of the city and moving in steadily along a 56-mile siege front, while the Fourth Army held positions 14 miles to the east.

Unconfirmed reports said the Soviets broke into the suburbs of Kassa last night.

Tiger Squad Heading East

MAIN NAZI ATTACK AIMED AT LIEGE

PATROLS OF THE U. S. FIRST ARMY are reported to have crossed the Roer river and entered Duren (1), the stronghold city of the Cologne road, while the mounting intensity of the Nazi counteroffensive was said to have been checked—at least in part—south of Monschau (2). The course of the German attack, indicated by the large arrow, appeared to be aimed toward Liege and Malmédy with the purpose of hitting the First Army's northern flank. Several enemy attacks on Luxembourg (3), are reported continuing, while Allied bombers blasted Trier, a key German supply center. (International)

BULLETIN

By United Press

The Germans have made a 25-mile breach in the First Army's lines in central Belgium and Luxembourg, field dispatches reported as heavy American reinforcements poured into the western front to stem the undiminished offensive.

The dispatches indicated that the enemy's drive was being held on the northern part of the Belgian sector facing the vital American supply center of Liege, but was threatening a major break-through farther south.

The German DNB news agency said Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army was wheeling northeastward from the Saar front to meet the threat.

A German high command communique said Nazi advance elements had crossed the Liege-Alton highway running north and south through eastern Belgium. The communique did not say whether the cross was made through Luxembourg or north of there in the Ardennes forest, but it could represent an advance of as much as 27 miles.

Yanks Mopping Up On Leyte

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Philippines, Dec. 21.—(UP)—

The Leyte campaign reached the mop-up stage today with three American divisions pursuing isolated and steadily weakening groups of Japanese into guerrilla-infested hills in the north-west corner of the island.

The fall of Libongao, 11 miles north of Ormoc, and Kananga, two miles farther north, to two converging columns at last reports only a mile apart completed the destruction of the Yamashita line and smashed the enemy's last integrated, or organized, resistance.

"The battle is rapidly drawing to an end," Gen. Douglas MacArthur reported in a communique just two months after American invasion forces first stormed ashore on the central Philippines island.

On Mindoro, 300 miles northwest of Leyte, combat engineers completed the first of a series of oil-surfaced airstrips to cover the next phase in MacArthur's campaign to liberate the Philippines. The mile-and-a-half long (Continued on Page Two)

YANKS SUFFER WORST SETBACK SINCE BATAAN

NAZI OFFENSIVE MOUNTING IN FURY ALONG WEST-ERN FRONT

(By James McGlinchey)
PARIS, Dec. 21.—(UP)—This is the payoff.

The United States Army has suffered in Belgium and Luxembourg its worst setback since the loss of the Philippines in 1942.

The Germans still are advancing, and their counter-offensive probably has yet to reach its peak.

Supreme headquarters acknowledged that the situation is grave and that it may become a lot graver before the tide of battle turns.

"We are confident that we are going to win this battle," an official spokesman at Supreme Headquarters said last night, "but we are not going to win it this week and probably not next week."

In the first three days alone, the Germans penetrated deeper into Belgium than we have been able to drive into Germany in three months. Luxembourg, capital of the Duchy that was thought secure, already may have fallen.

The German command has thrown so much into its assault—152,000 to 225,000 men and perhaps as many as 600 tanks—that it may aim to slash through to the north sea, a development that might set the Allies back six months.

The troops are the finest in the German army—veterans of battles on the eastern, southern and western fronts. Gone are the old men and young boys who fell back before the first breach in the Siegfried Line.

Even if their progress should be halted at some points temporarily, the Germans still have sufficient room to maneuver for further expansion elsewhere along their 60-mile front.

The German radio claimed that 10,000 American soldiers already have been taken prisoner, and even that did not seem out of line in view of the fluidity of the lines.

"Every time a jeep rounds a curve, there is always a question of whether it's going to meet a friendly convoy or an enemy tank," United Press war correspondent Franklin wrote from the first army front.

On the final outcome of the German counter-offensive will depend whether the war in Europe will end quickly or agonizingly drag on into the summer of 1945 and perhaps even longer.

Both sides have much to gain and much to lose. If the Germans could overrun a large area, they could inflict a shattering blow of the Allied Armies. That alone could add months to the duration of the war, months in which lost stocks were replaced, new communications lines painfully put together.

On the other hand, the Germans may over-reach themselves and expose themselves to annihilation, but at the moment, that is looking far ahead.

The next few weeks will tell the story.

HELP! HELP! POLICE!

The city council has instructed the police to enforce the walk cleaning ordinance. If there ever was a time calling for moderation in this, it is now, simply because many are not physically able to do it themselves and it is almost impossible to get help to do it. Old men, invalids, widows, and wives whose husbands are fighting for their country or are doing war work in distant places, find it difficult or impossible to clean their walks or get help to do it. Why should the police make their burden harder when there are other ways of handling the problem?

Many times in my memory the street force with horse and improvised snow plow have handled this problem well. Why not now? In former times, men and boys with snow shovels have called at your door asking to do this work—but not now.

Pity the old man, invalid, widow or young wife left alone and overburdened with family cares, lying awake at night listening to the roaring storm and knowing that on the morrow, the police will call ordering them to do what they are unable to do or get done.

Mayor and councilmen, have a heart! Instruct the street department to clean the resident walks with scraper and fitted horse or rented small tractor, and thus help out till times get normal, and labor is available.

MARY LUNCHEON
 Idea for the conservation of paper was made by E. Miller, vice president of the general sales manager of the Fibre Box Co., Terre Haute, before the Greencastle Club at its weekly meeting Wednesday. Introduced by Lenzen, he made an excellent talk on the "romance" of paper and his plea for the saving of all paper, especially paper and card board boxes, was convincing.

Mr. Miller proved to be exceptionally well informed on the history of paper and the paper making process in his address. The first use of paper by the Egyptians thousands of years ago was interestingly brought out. As explained by Mr. Miller, papyrus, which was the media used for writing, was made from the bark of the sedgewood, which with age has a lapping bark which is unwound when treated with water. The present method of processing the pulp was described as first used in 1700, and, with some improvement in the speed, has changed very little in the intervening years. Mr. Miller "romanced" the making of paper from the time the logs were removed from the forests to the time the finished product comes from the mill. The removing of the bark by placing the logs in a huge rotating vat, the removal of water and waste material, the use of starch in the final processing proved of interest. Edward Wood, William Lockwood, with the U. S. Army band, and Erwin Hamke were introduced as guests.

Seek Youngster In Girl Slaying

DIXON, Ill., Dec. 21.—(UP)—State police today sought Norman Burton, 15, for questioning in connection with the brutal slaying of his five-year-old niece, Sara Jane Tyne, whose mutilated body, a butcher knife sticking in it, was found in her home three miles north of Ohio Village.

Police said that a note, written by Norman, saying that he was "kill-crazy" and would never be taken alive, was found beside the body.

The killing was discovered last night when Mr. and Mrs. William Tyne returned home from their jobs at the Green River Ordnance Plant and found Sara Jane's body on the bedroom floor, covered with a coat. The back of the girl's head was crushed, Coroner Frank Nangle said, and the entire body was mangled with a butcher knife which was still sticking in it.

Norman, a brother of Mrs. Tyne, had been left in charge of Sara Jane, her two sisters, Mary Lou 7, and Jacqueline, 10 months and a younger brother Norman Douglas, 2.

Mary Lou told State's Attorney Morey Pires that Norman
